Tetra Pak Donates 1,000 Roof Sheets to Typhoon Victims as Part of CSR Drive

Bangkok, Thailand: Tetra Pak, the world's leading food processing and packaging solutions company, underscored its commitment to corporate social responsibility and helping disadvantaged people across the country by donating roof sheets to communities affected by recent heavy rains. Through the Green Roof Project for Princess Pa Foundation, Tetra Pak has been significantly making a contribution to Thai society by giving roof sheets to those who were in need for the past eight years. The roof sheets are named as Green Roof — a successful initiative by Tetra Pak, whereby used beverage cartons are recycled to roof sheets. This year Tetra Pak, led by Mr. Teera Puxsupachat, Circular Economy Expert of Tetra Pak (Thailand) Limited together with Mr. Saichon Sittikul-wanich, Marketing Manager of Beverage Carton Recycling Center, Fiber Pattana Company Limited traveled to Nakhon Si Thammarat to distribute roof sheets to more than 100 households in communities affected by Typhoon Pabuk.
